Jurisdiction and Venue

32. Charter Communications admits that Paragraph 32 of the Complaint purports to bring an action for patent infringement arising under the Patent Laws of the United States, but Charter Communications denies that RAKTL has any viable claim thereunder. Charter Communications admits that this Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of the Complaint under 28 U.S.C. sections 1331 and 1338(a), but denies the legal sufficiency of RAKTL's claims and allegations.

33. The averments of Paragraph 33 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

34. The averments of Paragraph 34 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

35. The averments of Paragraph 35 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

36. The averments of Paragraph 36 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

37. The Charter Defendants admit that they have designated an agent for service of process in the State of Delaware and that it is subject to personal jurisdiction in this district, but denies the legal sufficiency of RAKTL's claims and allegations.

38. The averments of Paragraph 38 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

39. The Charter Defendants admit that venue is proper in this judicial district because the Charter Defendants are incorporated and have a registered agent in this district, but deny the legal sufficiency of RAKTL's claims and allegations. The Charter Defendants are without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to whether Defendants, other than Charter Communications, are incorporated, reside, have designated a registered agent in, and/or are engaged in significant business activities in this district, and on that basis, deny this allegation. Except as expressly admitted, the Charter Defendants deny the allegations of Paragraph 39.

Background

40. Charter Communications admits that Ronald A. Katz is the named inventor of each of the patents asserted. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining averments in Paragraph 40 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

41. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments in Paragraph 41 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

42. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments in Paragraph 42 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

43. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments in Paragraph 43 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

44. Charter Communications admits that more than fifty U.S. patents, including each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, have issued naming Katz as inventor and that the first of such patents asserted against Charter Communications naming Katz as the inventor issued on December 20, 1988. Except as expressly admitted, Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 44 of the Complaint.

45. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments in Paragraph 45 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

46. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments in Paragraph 46 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

109. The averments of Paragraph 109 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

FIFTH CLAIM

110. Charter Communications repeats and incorporates its answers to the averments of Paragraphs 1-109 of the Complaint as if set forth herein in full.

111. Charter Communications admits that Charter Communications, Inc., Charter Communications Holding Company, LLC and Charter Communications Operating, LLC hold subsidiaries, such as Charter Communications Entertainment I, LLC, that are broadband communications companies engaged in certain cable television services, internet services, and pay-per-view television programming in various states throughout the U.S. Except as expressly admitted, Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 111.

112. The Charter Defendants admit that one or more of them use telephone systems to offer certain customer services and/or telephone bill pay services to customers. The Charter Defendants deny that they use "infringing call processing systems." The Charter Defendants further admit that one or more of them use or have used systems, in some instances in connection with an operator, that allow or have allowed customers to access information about their accounts, make credit card payments, schedule and/or confirm certain appointments, establish or change their personal identification numbers, access voicemail messages, order digital content to be delivered to their televisions, and/or perform various other functions via telephone. The Charter Defendants are without sufficient knowledge or information to form a belief as to the truth of the averments regarding "an automated system," and on that basis deny them. Except as expressly admitted, the Charter Defendants deny the averments in Paragraph 112.

113. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments of Paragraph 113 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

114. Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 114 of the Complaint.

115. Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 115 of the Complaint.

116. Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 116 of the Complaint.

117. Charter Communications denies the averments in Paragraph 117 of the Complaint.

SIXTH CLAIM

118. Charter Communications repeats and incorporates its answers to the averments of Paragraphs 1-77 of the Complaint as if set forth herein in full.

119. The averments of Paragraph 119 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

120. The averments of Paragraph 120 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

121. Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments of Paragraph 121 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

122. The averments of Paragraph 122 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

123. The averments of Paragraph 123 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the averments of Paragraph 123 of the Complaint, and on that basis denies them.

124. The averments of Paragraph 124 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

125. The averments of Paragraph 125 of the Complaint do not apply to Charter Communications; further, Charter Communications is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of said averments, and on that basis denies them.

GENERAL DENIAL

Except as expressly admitted, Charter Communications denies each and every averment contained in Paragraphs 1 through 125 of the Complaint.

CHARTER COMMUNICATIONS' AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(c), Charter Communications asserts the following affirmative defenses to RAKTL's Complaint.

FIRST DEFENSE

Charter Communications does not infringe directly, by inducement or by contribution any claim of any patent asserted against it

SECOND DEFENSE

The claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are invalid for failure to meet the requirements of the Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. § 1, et. seq., including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and 112.

THIRD DEFENSE

One or more of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are unenforceable due to inequitable conduct by RAKTL, Ronald A. Katz and/or their agents and attorneys before the United States Patent and Trademark Office as part of the prosecution of the patents asserted as described with particularity in the averments of Count III of Charter Communications' Counterclaims below, which averments are realleged and reincorporated here by reference as if set forth in full.

FOURTH DEFENSE

The patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are unenforceable pursuant to the doctrine of prosecution laches due to the unreasonable delay in seeking issuance of each patent.

FIFTH DEFENSE

The claims against Charter Communications are barred, in whole or in part, pursuant to the doctrines of laches, waiver and/or estoppel due to RAKTL's unreasonable delay in asserting the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

SIXTH DEFENSE

The claims against Charter Communications are barred, at least in part, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 286 for all events occurring more than six years prior to RAKTL's filing of this Complaint.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

RAKTL is barred from recovering damages from Charter Communications for infringement of the patents asserted, if any, until the date RAKTL provided proper notice to Charter Communications pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 287(a).

EIGHTH DEFENSE

The claims against Charter Communications are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of unclean hands.

NINTH DEFENSE

RAKTL's claims are barred in whole or in part because RAKTL has engaged in patent misuse by initiating this sham litigation and trying to enforce the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit against Charter Communications in bad faith.

TENTH DEFENSE

Prosecution history estoppel applies to preclude RAKTL from maintaining that any claim of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit covers, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, any of the accused systems operated by Charter Communications.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

Charter Communications reserves the right to add any additional defenses or counterclaims that discovery may reveal.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Except as specifically admitted, Charter Communications denies each and every averment contained in Paragraphs 1 through 125 of the Complaint and denies that RAKTL is entitled to any of the relief requested in its Request for Relief. Charter Communications respectfully requests that the Court enter judgment in its favor and against RAKTL on all of RAKTL's claims; that the Court find this case exceptional and award Charter Communications its costs and attorneys' fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285; and that the Court award such other further relief as the Court deems appropriate.

CHARTER COMMUNICATIONS' COUNTERCLAIMS

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 13, Charter Communications, Inc., Charter Communications Holding Company, LLC, Charter Communications Operating, LLC and Charter Communications Entertainment I, LLC ("Charter Communications") hereby assert the following counterclaims against Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. ("RAKTL") and aver as follows:

NATURE AND BASIS OF ACTION

1. This is an action arising under the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202, and the United States Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. Charter Communications requests declarations that: (i) it does not infringe any valid, enforceable claim of U.S. Patent Nos. 4,792,968 ("the '968 patent"), 4,930,150 ("the '150 patent"), 5,351,285 ("the '285 patent"), 5,917,893 ("the '893 patent"), 5,128,984 ("the '984 patent"), 5,251,252 ("the '252 patent"), 5,828,734 ("the '734 patent"), 5,974,120 ("the '120 patent"), 6,434,223 ("the '223 patent"), 5,684,863 ("the '863 patent"), 5,815,551 ("the '551 patent"), 5,898,762 ("the '762 patent"), 6,148,065 ("the '065 patent"), 6,678,360 ("the '360 patent") and 6,335,965 ("the '965 patent") (collectively "the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit"); (ii) the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are invalid; and (iii) the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are unenforceable.

The Parties, Jurisdiction and Venue

2. Charter Communications, Inc. is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, having its principal place of business at 12405 Powerscourt Drive, St Louis, Missouri 63131.

3. Charter Communications Holding Company, LLC. is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, having its principal place of business at 12405 Powerscourt Drive, St Louis, Missouri 63131.

4. Charter Communications Operating, LLC is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, having its principal place of business at 12405 Powerscourt Drive, St Louis, Missouri 63131.

5. Charter Communications Entertainment I, LLC is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, having its principal place of business at 12405 Powerscourt Drive, St Louis, Missouri 63131.

6. According to RAKTL's Complaint, RAKTL is a limited partnership organized under the laws of the State of California, having a principal place of business at 9220 Sunset Boulevard #315, Los Angeles, California 90069.

7. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332 and 1338, and the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

8. This Court has personal jurisdiction over RAKTL by virtue of the fact that RAKTL has submitted to the jurisdiction of this Court by bringing the instant action.

9. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 and 28 U.S.C. § 1400(b).

Factual Allegations Common to All Claims

10. Upon information and belief, RAKTL purports to be the owner by assignment of each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

11. RAKTL has asserted that Charter Communications has directly and contributorily infringed and induced others to infringe one or more claims of each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

12. Charter Communications has not and does not infringe directly, by inducement or by contribution, any valid and enforceable claim of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

13. Upon information and belief, all claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are invalid for failure to meet the requirements of the Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. § 1, et. seq., including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and 112.

14. Upon information and belief, the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are unenforceable by the doctrine of prosecution laches due to the unreasonable delay in seeking issuance of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

15. Upon information and belief, the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are also unenforceable due to the pattern and practice of inequitable conduct committed by RAKTL, Ronald A. Katz and/or their agents or attorneys (collectively "Katz") before the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") as part of the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and/or related patents and patent applications thereto as described in Count III of Charter Communications' Counterclaims below.

Count I

Declaratory Judgment Regarding Non-Infringement of the Patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit

16. Charter Communications realleges and incorporates the averments of Paragraphs 1 through 15, inclusive, of its Counterclaims as if set forth herein in full.

17. There is an actual and justiciable controversy between the parties arising under the Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. § 1, et seq. concerning Charter Communications' non-infringement of the claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

18. Charter Communications is entitled to a judicial declaration that it has not and does not infringe directly, by inducement or by contribution, any valid, enforceable claim of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

Count II

Declaratory Judgment Regarding Invalidity of the Patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit

19. Charter Communications realleges and incorporates the averments of Paragraphs 1 through 12, inclusive, of its Counterclaims as if set forth herein in full.

20. There is an actual and justiciable controversy between the parties concerning the invalidity of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit for failure to meet the requirements of the Patent Act, 35 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and 112.

21. Charter Communications is entitled to a judicial declaration and order that the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are invalid.

Count III

Declaratory Judgment Regarding Unenforceability of the Patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit

22. Charter Communications realleges and incorporates the averments of Paragraphs 1 through 12, inclusive, of its Counterclaims as if set forth herein in full.

23. There is an actual and justiciable controversy between the parties concerning the unenforceability of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

24. Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations (“CFR”) § 1.56 and the Manual for Patent Examination Procedure (“MPEP”) § 2000.01, et seq. impose a duty of candor and good faith on each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application before the USPTO, which requires he or she to disclose to the USPTO all information that is material to the patentability of the application under examination. Breach of this duty of candor, good faith and honesty with an intent to deceive the USPTO constitutes inequitable conduct so as to render the affected patents unenforceable.

25. Upon information and belief, Katz, with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond any to which Katz was entitled, exercised a pattern and practice of conduct as part of the prosecution of the applications that ultimately led to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and related applications—upon which the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority and which also contain related and material claimed subject matter—that violated the duty of candor, good faith and honesty owed by patent applicants.

26. In addition to the aforementioned patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, other related patents and applications, to which the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority, are relevant to the Counterclaim of unenforceability based on Katz's inequitable conduct. These related patents include U.S. Patent Nos. 4,845,739 ("the '739 patent"), 4,939,773 ("the '773 patent"), 5,014,298 ("the '298 patent"), 5,048,075 ("the '075 patent"), 5,073,929 ("the '929 patent"), 5,218,631 ("the '631 patent"), 5,224,153 ("the '153 patent"), 5,359,645 ("the '645 patent"), 5,365,575 ("the '575 patent"), 5,553,120 ("the '3120 patent"), 5,787,156 ("the '156 patent"), 5,793,846 ("the '846 patent"), 5,835,576 ("the '576 patent"), 6,016,344 ("the '344 patent"), 6,035,021 ("the '021 patent"), 6,044,135 ("the '135 patent"), 6,151,387 ("the '387 patent"), and 6,512,415 ("the '415 patent"). The related applications include U.S. Patent Application Nos. 06/753,299, ("the '299 application"), 07/342,506 ("the '506 application") and 07/640,337 ("the '337 application").

27. Upon information and belief, on multiple occasions as part of the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and in related patents and/or applications and with the intent to deceive the USPTO, Katz intentionally: (I) failed to disclose material prior art known to Katz; (II) failed to inform the USPTO of inconsistent positions taken during prosecution; (III) failed to identify or disclose material information from related litigations or proceedings; (IV) failed to inform patent examiners of adverse findings by others; and (V) made false claims of priority so as to avoid the prior art. These repeated and intentional violations of Katz's duty of candor, good faith and honesty, which are described in detail below, render the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit invalid and unenforceable.

I. Katz Intentionally Failed to Disclose Material Prior Art.

28. Upon information and belief, as part of the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and related patents and applications, Katz repeatedly failed to disclose material references known to Katz with the intent to deceive the USPTO, as set forth below.

A. Katz intentionally failed to disclose the Barger patent.

29. Upon information and belief, Katz had knowledge of U.S. Patent No. 4,071,698 to Barger, Jr. et al. ("the Barger patent") at least as early as January 1989. Katz failed to disclose the Barger patent to the USPTO patent examiner as part of the prosecution of several of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and related patents and/or applications, including at least the '739, '150, '298, '929, '984 and '252 patents, which were pending as of, or filed after, January 1, 1989.

30. The Barger patent is prior art to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit because it was filed in the USPTO on January 10, 1977, a full eight years before the effective filing date of Katz's first patent.

31. The Barger patent is material to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit. The Barger patent discloses an automated interactive voice system for marketing merchandise, such as audio recordings. A customer selects and listens to an audio sample and may arrange payment by credit card or other means. The system maintains a complete record of all transactions—including requests for demonstrations played by each customer—in order to maintain current inventory records and determine trends. The system uses the transaction history to determine whether a customer is a "free loader" and limits the customer's access to the system accordingly.

32. The system disclosed in the Barger patent is also capable of assigning a caller to an operator who obtains information from the customer and enters the information into a database. When the customer requests a specific demonstration, the operator enters the appropriate code into the system and the audio sample is played to the customer. Upon completion of the demonstration, the system returns the customer to a live operator, who will take the order or provide another audio sample for the caller to listen to.

33. Because the Barger patent discloses many of the central features claimed by Katz, it would have been material to the USPTO in deciding whether to allow the claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and related patents and/or applications. For example, the Barger patent discloses storing data entered by a caller in a record, limiting the number of times a caller can access the system, and entering credit card information.

34. The materiality of the Barger patent was confirmed by the USPTO Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, which in Appeal No. 94-0834, Application Serial No. 07/640,337 (Feb. 17, 1998) affirmed an Examiner's rejection of certain of Katz's pending claims based in part on the disclosure of the Barger patent.

35. Upon information and belief, Katz had knowledge of the materiality and relevance of the Barger patent to the claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit that were prosecuted by Katz before the USPTO. Upon information and belief, Katz became aware of the Barger patent and its materiality on or about December 1988 as part of the prosecution of an international application (WO 87/000375), which is based on Katz's U.S. Patent Application No. 06/753,299 ("the '299 application"). As part of the prosecution of the WO 87/000375 application, the European Patent Office ("EPO") identified the Barger patent as "particularly relevant" in regard to the patentability of the claims. In addition, the EPO sent the international search report identifying the Barger patent as "particularly relevant" to Katz's European attorney, Mr. Graham F. Coles, on December 27, 1988.

36. Notably, all of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority to the '299 application. Thus, the international search report put Katz on notice both of the existence and materiality of the Barger patent to the subject matter claimed in the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit

37. Upon information and belief, Katz considered the Barger patent so significant that Katz ultimately acquired the patent by assignment through First Data Resources Inc. ("First Data") on November 2, 1990 and by subsequent assignment to RAKTL on September 17, 1994.

38. Notwithstanding Katz's knowledge of the Barger patent and of its materiality, upon information and belief, Katz failed to disclose this material piece of prior art to the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '739, '150, '929, '298, '984 and '252 patents.

39. In addition, Katz did not disclose the existence of the Barger patent to the USPTO as part of the substantive prosecution of the '285 patent. Rather, Katz waited until after the Notice of Allowance was issued by the USPTO and after the issue fee was paid to disclose the Barger patent, only seven days before the '285 patent issued

40. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally withheld the material Barger patent from the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '739, '150, '298, '929, '984, '252 and '285 patents with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering those patents unenforceable. These patents are either patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, in the case of the '150, '252, '984 and '285 patents, and/or are patents from which patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority and which share related, material subject matter.

41. The inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to at least the '739, '150, '298, '929, '984, '252 and '285 patents taints other related patents, which claim priority to these patents and which claim related subject matter to which the Barger patent is material, rendering these related patents unenforceable.

42. At least the '893 patent, which is one of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, claims priority from and claim subject matter related to both the '150 and '285 patents to which the Barger patent is also material. Accordingly, at least the '893 patent is likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '150 and '285 patents.

43. Likewise, at least the '863, '551, '762, '734, '065, '893, '120, '360 and '223 patents, which are patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all claim priority from and claim subject matter related to the '739 patent to which the Barger patent is also material. The close relationship between these children patents and the '739 parent patent is evidenced by terminal disclaimers filed by Katz as part of the prosecution of at least the '863, '551, '762, '734, '065, '893, '120, '360 and '223 patents, effectively conceding that there is no patentable difference between the claimed subject matter in these patents and the '739 patent. Accordingly, at least the '863, '551, '762, '734, '065, '893, '120, '360 and '223 patents are likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '739 patent.

44. Similarly, at least the '965 patent, which is one of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, claims priority from and claim subject matter related to both the '153 and the '298 patents to which the Barger patent is also material. Accordingly, at least the '965 patent is likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '153 and the '298 patents.

45. Likewise, at least the '734, '120 and '223 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority from and claim subject matter related to both the '929, '252 and '984 patents to which the Barger patent is also material. The close relationship between the '734, '120 and '223 patents and the '984 parent patent is evidenced by terminal disclaimers filed by Katz as part of the prosecution of at least the '734, '120 and '223 patents, effectively conceding that there is no patentable difference between the claimed subject matter in these patents and the '984 patent. Accordingly, at least the '734, '120 and '223 patents are likewise rendered unenforceable due to inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '929 and '984 patents.

46. Accordingly, at least the '150, '285, '863, '551, '734, '762, '893, '120, '065, '965, '223, and '360 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, are all rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentional failure to disclose the Barger patent to the USPTO.

B. Katz intentionally failed to disclose the DeBruyn patent.

47. Upon information and belief, Katz had knowledge of and failed to disclose European Patent No. 0032410 to DeBruyn ("the DeBruyn patent") to the USPTO as part of the prosecution of many of Katz's earlier patents, including at least the '150, '984, '252 and '285 patents, which are patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, as well as the related '739 and '929 patents. Except for the '968 patent, all of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority to one or more of these patents.

48. The DeBruyn patent is prior art to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit because it was published by the EPO as European Patent Specification EP0032410A1 on July 22, 1981.

49. The DeBruyn patent is material to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit. The DeBruyn patent discloses an interactive voice system for implementing a lottery. The system receives a call from a prospective player along with the player's telephone number. Both French and English speaking players are accommodated by the same system by receiving calls dialed to different telephone numbers. A caller's access to the system may be restricted based on various criteria such as the number of times a caller accesses the system per week or the amount wagered. DeBruyn also discloses issuing secret codes to prospective players that can also be entered into the system before access is granted to the caller.

50. After gaining access to the system, the player is cued to enter a lottery number using a telephone keypad. After the player enters the lottery number, the system stores the lottery number and the player's telephone number. The system will also parrot back to the caller the lottery number entered to confirm proper entry of the desired lottery number for play before subsequently disconnecting the call.

51. Because the DeBruyn patent discloses many features relevant to Katz's claims, it would have been material to the USPTO in deciding whether to allow the claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit. For example, the DeBruyn patent discloses receiving a caller's telephone number automatically from the telephone network, prompting the caller with instructions, receiving data entered via touch-tone telephone keypads, storing caller-entered data, processing caller-entered data and qualifying callers for limited access or limits on use. The DeBruyn patent also discloses qualifying callers based on the caller's telephone number.

52. The DeBruyn patent is substantively identical to Canadian Patent No. 1,162,336 to DeBruyn ("The DeBruyn Canadian patent"), which has been relied upon by the Director of the USPTO in ordering the reexamination of several of Katz's patents related to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, including the '707, '309 and '023 patents. With respect to the '309 patent, for example, upon information and belief, the Director stated: "In view of the teachings of [the DeBruyn Canadian Patent], a substantial new question of patentability is raised as to claim 23 of the ['309 patent], and a reexamination of all the patent claims as to the substantial new question of patentability is appropriate." Reexamination Control No. 90/006,976, Director Initiated Order For Reexamination mailed March 26, 2004, at 6. Upon information and belief, the Director has similarly determined that the DeBruyn patent anticipates, for example, at least one claim in each of the '023 and '707 patents under 35 U.S.C. § 102. Like most of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, each of the '707, '309 and '023 patents, on its face, is asserted by Katz to be a continuation of the '739 patent.

53. Further, an examiner at the USPTO has determined that the DeBruyn Canadian patent anticipates at least claims 23, 25-37, 41-43, 46, 50 and 51 of the '309 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b). Reexamination Control Nos. 90/006,976 and 90/007,092 [Merged Proceedings], Office Action mailed September 9, 2005, at 2, 9-19. The Examiner has also relied on the DeBruyn Canadian patent in rejecting claims 1, 7-12, 14, 20, 24, 32, 38-42 and 52-58 under 35 U.S.C. § 103. Id. at 2, 32-43.

54. The Examiner has further determined that the DeBruyn Canadian patent anticipates at least claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 10, 21 and 22-27 of the '023 patent under 35 U.S.C. §

102(b) Reexamination Control Nos. 90/006,977 and 90/007,058 [Merged Proceedings], Office Action mailed September 1, 2005, at 2-9. The Examiner has also relied on the DeBruyn Canadian patent in rejecting claims 5, 6, 22 and 23 under 35 U.S.C. § 103. Id. at 24-26, 28.

55. Upon information and belief, Katz became aware of the DeBruyn patent and its materiality to the subject matter claimed in the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit by at least as early as January 1989. The same international search report that identified the Barger patent and, upon information and belief, was sent to Katz's European attorney, Mr. Graham F. Coles, on December 27, 1988, also identified the DeBruyn patent as "particularly relevant" with respect to the patentability of the claims of Katz's '299 application.

56. Notwithstanding Katz's knowledge of the DeBruyn patent and its materiality, upon information and belief, Katz failed to disclose this material prior art to the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '150, '739, '929, '984 and '252 patents.

57. In addition, Katz did not disclose the existence of the DeBruyn patent to the USPTO as part of the substantive prosecution of the '285 patent. Rather, Katz waited until after the Notice of Allowance was issued by the USPTO and after the issue fee was paid to disclose the DeBruyn patent, only seven days before the '285 patent issued.

58. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally withheld the material DeBruyn patent from the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '150, '285, '739, '929, '984 and '252 patents with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering those patents unenforceable. These patents are either patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, in the case of the '150, '285 and '252 patents, and/or are patents from which patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority and which share related, material subject matter.

59. The inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to at least the '150, '285, '739, '929, '984 and '252 patents taints other related patents, which claim priority to these patents and which claim related subject matter to which the DeBruyn patent is material, rendering these related patents unenforceable.

60. At least the '285, '893, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents, which are patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all claim priority from and claim subject matter related to the '739 patent to which the DeBruyn patent is also material. Accordingly, at least the '285, '893, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents are likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '739 patent.

61. Likewise, at least the '893 patent, which is one of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, claims priority from and claims subject matter related to both the '150 and '285 patents to which the DeBruyn patent is also material. Accordingly, at least the '893 patent is likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '150 and '285 patents.

62. Similarly, at least the '734, '120 and '223 patents, which are patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all claim priority from and claim subject matter related to both the '929, '984 and '252 patents to which the DeBruyn patent is also material. The close relationship between these children patents and those to which they claim priority is evidenced by terminal disclaimers filed by Katz for at least the '734, '120 and '223 patents, effectively conceding that there is no patentable difference between the subject matter claimed in the '734 patent and that disclosed in the '252 patent. Accordingly, at least the '734, '120 and the '223 patents are likewise rendered unenforceable due to inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '929, '984 and '252 patents.

63. Accordingly, at least the '150, '285, '893, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are all rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentional failure to disclose the DeBruyn patent to the USPTO.

C. Katz intentionally failed to disclose his own International Application WO 87/00375.

64. Upon information and belief, Katz had knowledge of and failed to disclose his own published international application WO 87/00375 ("the WO '375 application") to the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '285, '863 and '551 patents, which are all patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit. Upon information and belief, Katz also failed to disclose the WO '375 application as part of the prosecution of at least the related '739 patent.

65. The WO '375 application teaches a statistical analysis system for use in conjunction with a public communication facility. When the system receives a call, a voice generator prompts the caller for information such as a key number or the caller's telephone number. If available, the caller's telephone number may be taken directly from the communication facility. After qualifying the caller using the number received, the system retrieves polling-type data from the callers which is combined with stored data to isolate a select subset of callers. The WO '375 application has the same specification as the initial U.S. '299 application Katz filed to which all other patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority and discloses much of the same subject matter incorporated in subsequent patents claiming priority to it.

66. The WO '375 application was filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty ("PCT") and published on January 15, 1987. Therefore, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 102(b), the WO '375 application would be considered prior art for any claims with an effective filing date more than one year after the January 15, 1987 publication date.

67. The '739 and '285 patents were all filed more than one year after the publication date of January 15, 1987. The '739 and '285 patents incorporate additional subject matter in their specifications relative to the WO '375 application. Further, the '739 and '285 patents claim additional subject matter relative to the WO '375 application. Therefore, the WO '375 application can be considered as prior art for any new matter that was added and claimed in the '739 and '285 patents.

68. The WO '375 application would have been material to the Examiner in determining what claims, if any, Katz was entitled to in the '285, '863 and '551 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and the related '739 and '929 patents. For example, the materiality of the WO '375 application was confirmed by the USPTO when it was cited against the '984 patent by the Examiner in May of 1991. In particular, the WO '375 application would be relevant to the basic elements claimed in the '739 and '285 patents, such as prompting callers with instructions, receiving data entered via touch-tone telephone keypads, storing caller-entered data, processing caller-entered data and qualifying callers.

69. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally withheld the WO '375 application from the USPTO as part of the prosecution on the merits of at least the '739 and '285 patents with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which

Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering those patents unenforceable. These patents are either patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, in the case of the '285 patent, and/or are patents from which patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority and which share related, material subject matter.

70. The inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to at least the '739 and '285 patents taints other related patents, which claim priority to these patents and which claim related subject matter to which the WO '375 application is material, rendering these related patents unenforceable. For example, all of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, with the exception of the '968 and the '150 patents, claim priority from and claim subject matter related to the '739 patent to which the WO '375 application is also material. Accordingly, at least the '984, '252, '285, '863, '551, '762, '893, '120, '065, '965, '223, and '360 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed in the parent '739 patent.

71. Accordingly, at least the '984, '252, '285, '863, '551, '762, '893, '120, '065, '965, '223, and '360 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are all rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentional failure to disclose the WO '375 application to the USPTO.

D. Katz intentionally failed to disclose the Daudelin '995 patent.

72. Upon information and belief, Katz had knowledge of U.S. Patent No. 4,943,995 ("the Daudelin '995 patent") at least by October 26, 1997. Katz did not, however, disclose the Daudelin '995 patent during the prosecution of at least the '120 patent asserted against Charter Communications.

73. The Daudelin '995 patent, which was filed on October 6, 1986 and issued on July 24, 1990, is prior art to at least the '120 patent, which was filed in 1995.

74. The Daudelin '995 patent is material to certain of the claimed subject matter under consideration in the prosecution of at least the '120 patent. The Daudelin '995 patent discloses a system for receiving toll free calls directed to either one of two toll-free telephone numbers associated with either business or consumer products. Callers are provided product information and can place orders, using either automated voice response systems, human operators, or combinations thereof. Callers are qualified based in part on their calling party number, and the particular product they selected.

75. Because the Daudelin '995 patent discloses many of the features claimed in the '120 patent, it would have been material to the USPTO in deciding whether to allow the claims of the '120 patent. For example, the '120 patent claims receiving calls in a toll free mode, receiving and testing calling number identification data, prompting callers with voice prompts, and processing data entered by the callers.

76. Upon information and belief, Katz was aware of the Daudelin '995 patent during the prosecution of the '120 patent, having cited it to the USPTO more than two years prior to the issuance of the '120 patent. Upon information and belief, Katz listed the '995 patent in previous IDS submissions during the prosecution of Katz's patents, although Katz had misspelled the name as "Dandelin."

77. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally withheld the material Daudelin '995 patent from the USPTO during the prosecution of at least the '120 patent with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering the '120 patent unenforceable.

78. The inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to the '120 patent taints other related patents, which claim priority to '120 patent and which claim related subject matter to which the Daudelin '995 patent is material, rendering these related patents unenforceable.

79. At least the '223 patent, which is a patent asserted against Charter Communications, claims priority to the '120 patent and claims subject matter related to the '120 patent, to which the Daudelin '995 patent is material. Accordingly, at least the '223 patent is rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '120 patent.

80. Accordingly, at least the '120 and '223 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentional failure to disclose the Daudelin '995 patent to the USPTO.

E. Katz intentionally failed to disclose Periphonics prior art.

81. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally withheld from the USPTO highly relevant and material prior art by the Periphonics Corporation ("Periphonics") in order to obtain claims to which Mr. Katz was not entitled. Upon information and belief, in April 1993, in connection with First Data Resources, Inc. v West Interactive Corp., CV 91-4471TJH, U.S. District Court, Central District of California ("the West case"), materials bearing Bates numbers W72807-W73756 ("the West materials") were provided to Harold Wurst, Esq. of Nilsson, Wurst & Green ("the Nilsson firm"). The Nilsson firm was involved in prosecuting many of Mr. Katz's patent applications, some of which would ultimately issue as the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

82. In U.S. Patent Application No. 08/306,456, which issued as the '965 patent, Katz stated: "During litigation [the West case], a voluminous quantity of prior art, that is, some 500 items (including single or plural related documents grouped together), were identified by the defendant. However, during pretrial procedures, the defendant distilled the applied art to 59 separate items (including single or plural related documents).” Paper no. 3, filed November 4, 1994. Katz also stated: “The voluminous quantity of art identified during litigation, excluding the 59 items (Set I), is listed on the second set of forms PTO-1449 (Supplemental I).” Paper no. 3, filed November 4, 1994.

83. Katz made the same statements in the applications that issued as the ’707 patent (IDS filed November 14, 1994), the ’285 patent (IDS filed September 20, 1994) and the parent application of the ’893 patent (IDS filed November 7, 1994 in Application No. 08/306,751). Other applications use varying language that refers the examiner to the references disclosed during prosecution of the ’707 patent. These other applications include the ’863 patent (Amendment filed May 6, 1996, at 44; IDS filed October 18, 1996), the ’762 patent (IDS filed January 16, 1997) and the ’551 patent (IDS filed October 2, 1996).

84. In connection with making these statements and references during prosecution of the ’707, ’965, ’285, ’893, ’863, ’762 and ’551 patents, Katz submitted to the USPTO certain materials containing Bates numbers within the range of the West materials. In addition to those submitted, the original West materials further included a number of Periphonics references, including: (1) Bank-From-Home Product Description, Publication #3000002, January 7, 1980 (“the Bank-From-Home reference”) (W73055-W73095); and (2) Periphonics VoicePac System with Peritalk/Announce Product Description and user Guide, Publication #3270601C, 1987 (“the VoicePac reference”) (W73219-W73302).

85. The Bank-From-Home reference and the VoicePac reference are highly relevant to many claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit. The Bank-

From-Home reference describes such limitations of claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit as structures for interfacing, storing, qualifying, switching, processing, voice generation, verifying credit and designating, as related to callers to the disclosed system. The VoicePac reference describes such limitations of claims of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit as interfacing callers to the system and transferring callers to a customer service representative

86. While other references containing Bates numbers within the range of the West materials were submitted to the USPTO during prosecution of the '707, '965, '285, '893, '863, '762 and '551 patents, the Bank-From-Home and VoicePac references were, upon information and belief, knowingly withheld during prosecution of at least these patents with knowledge of their materiality. Katz's failure to disclose this material prior art was a violation of the duty of candor and good faith owed to the USPTO, and constitutes inequitable conduct. Thus, at least the '965, '285, '863, '762 and '551 patents are rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct that occurred during prosecution of their respective applications.

87. Other patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are directly related to these patents, and are thus rendered unenforceable through infectious unenforceability. For example, the '065 and '360 patents have specifications substantially identical to those of the '707, '863, '762 and '551 patents, and rely for priority on the '739 patent, also having a substantially identical specification. The '065 and '360 patents contain claims with subject matter that includes subject matter that was at issue during prosecution of the '707, '863, '551 and '739 patents. In addition, due to the interrelatedness of all of these patents, Katz has disclaimed any patent term subsequent to the patent term of the '739 patent, in most instances in response to double patenting rejections made by the USPTO indicating that the claimed inventions were not patentably distinct.

88. Thus, Katz's inequitable conduct renders each of the '965, '285, '893, '863, '551, '065 and '360 patents unenforceable in its entirety.

II. Katz Intentionally Failed to Inform the USPTO of Inconsistent Positions Taken During Prosecution.

A. Katz failed to inform the USPTO of inconsistent positions taken with respect to the Daudelin patents.

89. At least three patents to Daudelin, including the Daudelin '955 patent and U.S. Patent Nos. 4,797,910 ("the Daudelin '910 patent") and 4,922,519 ("the Daudelin '519 patent"), collectively ("the Daudelin patents"), were cited during the prosecution of certain of Katz patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and related patents. The specifications for the Daudelin '910 and the '519 patents are substantially similar, and all three disclose aspects pertaining to DNIS (Dialed Number Identification Service) functionality.

90. Upon information and belief, Katz repeatedly took inconsistent positions as to the scope of the Daudelin patents to different patent examiners at different times during the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and failed to inform the different patent examiners of Katz's inconsistent positions.

91. During prosecution of the '734 patent, Katz labeled various prior art references as either "D", "A", "D/A" so as to indicate whether or not the reference was "pertinent to DNIS capabilities", "pertinent to ANI capabilities", or both, respectively. During the prosecution of the '734 patent, Katz did not label the Daudelin '910 patent as either "D", "A", "D/A". By failing to label the Daudelin '910 patent as either "D", "A", "D/A", Katz, thereby, characterized the Daudelin '910 patent as not being pertinent to either DNIS or ANI capabilities.

92. Whereas, as part of the prosecution of the '551 patent, Katz took a position that was contrary to the position Katz took as part of the prosecution of the '734 patent. Specifically, as part of the prosecution of the '551 patent, Katz labeled the Daudelin '910 patent with a "D" Katz, therefore, took the position, part of the prosecution of the '551 patent, that the Daudelin '910 patent was pertinent to DNIS capabilities.

93. Likewise, during the prosecution of the '893 patent, Katz characterized the '910 Daudelin patent as having "some disclosure of DNIS."

94. Subsequently, however, as part of the prosecution of the '360 patent, Katz took a position that was contrary to that taken as part of the prosecution of the '551 patent. Specifically, as part of the prosecution of the '360 patent, Katz asserted that "Daudelin does not teach DNIS."

95. Upon information and belief, Katz took inconsistent positions as to the scope of the Daudelin patents to different patent examiners at different times and failed to inform the different patent examiners of Katz's prior inconsistent positions with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering at least the '551, '734, '893 and '360 patents asserted against Charter unenforceable.

96. At least, the '120, '065, '223 and '360 patents asserted against Charter all claim priority to one or more of the '551 and '734 patents and claim subject matter related to these patent to which the Daudelin patents are material. Accordingly, at least the '120, '065, '893 and '223 patents are likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '551 and '734 patents.

97. Accordingly, at least the '551, '734, '120, '065, '223 and '360 patents asserted against Charter are all rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentionally taking inconsistent positions as to the scope of the Daudelin patents to different patent examiners at different times and failing to inform the different patent examiners of Katz's prior inconsistent positions with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled.

B. Katz failed to inform the USPTO of inconsistent positions taken with respect to the Riskin patent.

98. Upon information and belief, Katz also failed to inform the USPTO of inconsistent positions that Katz took with respect to U.S. Patent No. 4,757,267 to Riskin ("the Riskin patent").

99. As part of the prosecution of the '075 patent, Katz stated "that the Riskin patent discloses the utilization of ANI and DNIS signals to accomplish routing"

100. As part of the prosecution of the '120 patent, Katz took a position that was contrary to the position that Katz took as part of the prosecution of the '075 patent. Specifically, as part of the prosecution of the '120 patent, Katz labeled the Riskin patent with an "A", and not with a "D" or "D/A". By labeling the Riskin patent with an "A" only, Katz characterized the Riskin patent to the patent examiner as disclosing aspects pertaining to ANI ("Automatic [callingparty] number identification") only, and not DNIS.

101. By taking inconsistent positions as to the scope of the Riskin patent at different times and failing to inform the patent examiner of the prior inconsistent positions, and having the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, Katz committed inequitable conduct, thereby rendering at least the '075 and '120 patents unenforceable.

102. At least the '223 patent, which is a patent asserted against Charter, claims priority to the '120 patent and claims subject matter related to this patent to which the Riskin patent is material. Accordingly, at least the '223 patent is likewise rendered unenforceable due to the inequitable conduct committed by Katz as part of the prosecution of the related '120 patent.

103. Accordingly, at least the '120 and '223 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit are all rendered unenforceable for inequitable conduct due to Katz's intentionally taking inconsistent positions as to the scope of the Riskin patent at different times and failing to inform the patent examiner of the prior inconsistent positions with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled.

III. Katz Intentionally Failed to Identify or Disclose Material Information From Related Litigations or Proceedings.

104. Pursuant to MPEP § 2001.06(c), "[w]here the subject matter for which a patent is being sought is or has been involved in litigation," each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application before the USPTO has a duty to bring to the attention of the USPTO "the existence of such litigation and any other material information arising therefrom."

105. Upon information and belief, as set forth below, as part of the prosecution of several of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz failed to identify or disclose material information from several litigations of which Katz was aware, which involved related patents and material subject matter relating to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby constituting inequitable conduct.

A. Katz failed to disclose the West Interactive Corp. v. First Data Resources, Inc. litigation.

106. On October 24, 1990, West Interactive Corp. ("West") brought a declaratory judgment action, Civil Action No. 90-0-688, against First Data in the United States District Court for the District of Nebraska. West alleged, inter alia, that the '739, '150 and '773 patents are invalid on several theories including prior use and prior art.

107. West's allegations in that suit are material to at least the '285, '893, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all of which claim priority to at least the '739 patent and are directed to similar subject matter as provided in the '739 patent.

108. Upon information and belief, during the prosecution of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz was aware of the West Interactive Corp. v. First Data Resources, Inc. litigation and of material information arising therefrom, as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising therein.

109. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, Katz failed to disclose the existence of the West Interactive Corp. v. First Data Resources, Inc. litigation to the patent examiners of the '285, '893, '984, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit as part of prosecution of these patents. Moreover, upon information and belief, Katz did not disclose to the patent examiners for the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, the nature of West's allegations relating to the invalidity and unenforceability of the '739 and '150 patents as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising in the litigation. Upon information and belief, this failure to disclose was committed with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

B. Katz failed to disclose the First Data Resources, Inc. v. 900 Million, Inc., et al. litigation.

110. On October 9, 1990, First Data brought a suit, Civil Action No. 90-5418-HLH, against 900 Million, Inc. and others in the United States District Court for the Central District of California for the alleged infringement of the '739, '150 and '773 patents.

111. The defendants in the First Data Resources, Inc. v. 900 Million, Inc., et al. litigation filed a counterclaim alleging invalidity and unenforceability of the '739 and '150 patents.

112. The defendants' counterclaims in the First Data Resources, Inc. v. 900 Million, Inc., et al. litigation are material to at least the '285, '893, '984, '252, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all of which claim priority to at least the '739 patent.

113. Upon information and belief, Katz was aware of the First Data Resources, Inc. v. 900 Million, Inc., et al. litigation during the prosecution of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

114. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, Katz failed to disclose the existence of the First Data Resources, Inc. v. 900 Million, Inc., et al. litigation and the subject matter of the defendants' allegations to the USPTO as part of the prosecution of at least the '285, '893, '984, '252, '734, '120, '223, '863, '551, '762, '065, '360 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

C. Katz failed to disclose the First Data Resources Inc. v. West Interactive Corp., et al. litigation

115. On August 20, 1991, First Data brought suit, Civil Action No. 91-4471-TJH, against West Interactive Corp. and Fantasy Sports Concepts, Inc. in the United States District Court for the Central District of California for the alleged infringement of the '739, '150 and '298 patents.

116. The defendants in the First Data Resources Inc. v. West Interactive Corp., et al. litigation filed a counterclaim alleging, inter alia, the invalidity and unenforceability of the '739, '298 and '150 patents.

117. The defendants' allegations in that suit are material to at least the '984, '285, '893, '120, '863 and '551 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, all of which claim priority to at least the '739 patent.

118. Upon information and belief, Katz was aware of the First Data Resources Inc. v. West Interactive Corp., et al. litigation during the prosecution of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

119. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, as part of the prosecution of at least the '984, '252, '863, '551, '893, and '120 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz did not disclose the existence of the First Data Resources Inc. v. West Interactive Corp., et al. litigation (or in the case of the '285 patent, Katz waited to report the existence of the litigation until after payment of the issue fee) to the patent examiners of the '984, '252, '863, '551, '893 and '120 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit as part of prosecution of these patents. Moreover, upon information and belief, Katz did not disclose to the patent examiners of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, the nature of the defendants' allegations relating to the invalidity and unenforceability of the '739,

'150 and '298 patents as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising in the litigation. Upon information and belief, this failure to disclose was committed with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

D. Katz failed to disclose the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. Micro Voice Applications, Inc., et al. litigation.

120. On February 9, 1999, RAKTL filed suit, Civil Action No. 99-CV-592, against Micro Voice Applications, Inc. and others in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California for infringement of the '739, '252, '285, '863, '153, '023 and '707 patents.

121. In response to RAKTL's Complaint, the defendants in the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. Micro Voice Applications, Inc., et al. litigation, alleged, inter alia, that the '739, '252, '285, '863, '153, '023 and '707 patents are invalid and/or unenforceable.

122. The defendant's allegations in the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. Micro Voice Applications, Inc., et al. litigation are material to at least the '065 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, which are related patents at issue in that suit.

123. Upon information and belief, during the prosecution of the '065 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz was aware of the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. Micro Voice Applications, Inc., et al. litigation and of material information arising therefrom, as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising therein.

124. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, as part of the prosecution of at least the '065 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz did not disclose the existence of the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. Micro Voice Applications, Inc., et al. litigation to the patent examiners of the '065 and '965 patents asserted against Charter

Communications in this suit as part of the prosecution of these patents. Moreover, upon information and belief, Katz did not disclose to the patent examiners of these patents asserted against Charter Communications, the nature of the defendants' allegations relating to the invalidity and unenforceability of the '739, '153, '252, '023, '285, '707, and '863 patents as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising in the litigation. Upon information and belief, this failure was committed with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

E. Katz failed to disclose the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P., et al. v. AT&T Corp., et al. litigation.

125. On July 8, 1997, RAKTL and MCI Telecommunications Corp. brought suit, Civil Action No. 97-CV-4453, against AT&T Corp. and others in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania for infringement of the '739, '150, '298, '075, '929, '984, '631, '153, '252, '309, '023, '285, '645, '120, '707 and '863 patents and U.S. Patent No. 5,349,633 ("the '633 patent").

126. In reply, AT&T Corp. asserted, inter alia, that the '739, '150, '298, '075, '929, '984, '631, '153, '252, '309, '023, '285, '645, '120, '707, '863 and '633 patents are invalid.

127. AT&T Corp.'s allegations in the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v AT&T Corp., et al. litigation are material to at least the '762, '893 and '120 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, which are related to and claim related subject matter to the patents involved in that litigation.

128. Upon information and belief, Katz was aware of the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v AT&T Corp., et al. litigation during the prosecution of the '762, '893 and '120 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

129. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, Katz did not disclose the existence of the Ronald A. Katz Technology Licensing, L.P. v. AT&T Corp., et al., litigation to the patent examiners of the '762, '893 and '4120 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit as part of prosecution of these patents. Moreover, upon information and belief, Katz did not disclose to the patent examiners of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, the nature of AT&T's allegations relating to the invalidity of the '739, '150, '298, '075, '929, '984, '631, '153, '252, '309, '023, '285, '645, '4120, '707, '863 and '633 patents as set forth in the pleadings and other papers arising in the litigation. Upon information and belief, this failure to disclose was committed with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

F. Katz failed to disclose Patent Interference No. 103,697.

130. Patent Interference No. 103,697 was declared on February 13, 1996, and was finalized by November 20, 1996. One conclusion of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in that patent interference was that the '968 patent specification did not provide written support for certain limitations claimed by Katz, which included transferring calls to an operator in certain circumstances.

131. The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences's conclusion that the '968 patent lacked written support for certain alleged limitations would have been material to the patent examiners of the '893 '734, '120, '863, '762 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, for purposes of, for example, establishing the effective date of a claim for purposes of analyzing prior art. Indeed, upon information and belief, all of these patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit claim priority to the '968 patent, and many of them, including at least the '863 and '551 patents, are disclaimed with respect to the '968 patent.

132. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally failed to disclose the existence of Patent Interference No. 103,697 and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences' findings to the patent examiners of at least the '893 '734, '120, '863, '762 and '965 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering these patents unenforceable.

IV. Katz Intentionally Failed to Inform Patent Examiners of Adverse Findings by Others.

133. Pursuant to MPEP § 2001.06(b), each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application before the USPTO has "a duty to bring to the attention of the examiner, or other [USPTO] official involved with the examination of a particular application, information within their knowledge as to other copending United States applications which are 'material to patentability' of the application in question." Furthermore, according to this section of the MPEP, such individuals:

cannot assume that the examiner of a particular application is necessarily aware of other applications which are 'material to patentability' of the application in question, but must instead bring such other applications to the attention of the examiner. For example, if a particular inventor has different applications pending in which similar subject matter but patentably indistinct claims are present that fact must be disclosed to the examiner of each of the involved applications.

A. Katz failed to disclose adverse findings in related patent prosecutions.

134. During the prosecution of the '344 patent, Katz made the false assertion that the '968 patent supported the limitation "automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means responsive to predetermined signals on said telephone trunk for providing a calling party telephone number.” Further, upon information and belief, Katz falsely asserted that the “[r]eferences cited are based on U.S. Patent No. 4,792,968 to Katz with a filing date of Feb. 14, 1987, of which the present application is a continuation.”

135. The examiner of the '344 patent, Examiner Brown, in a 1990 Office Action, refuted Katz's assertion that the '344 patent application was a continuation of the '968 patent, noting, “the present application is not a continuation of '968. . . .” Rather, the pending application that resulted in the '344 patent was a continuation-in-part, in which new matter was added to the specification, and as such, any claims directed to the new matter were not entitled to the effective date of the '968 patent. Further, Examiner Brown rejected Katz's assertion that the '968 patent supported the automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means limitation. Specifically, Examiner Brown stated that “applicant's patent [i.e., the '968 patent] does not in fact disclose or describe an “automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means””

136. Despite Examiner Brown's refutation of Katz's assertions that the '344 patent application was a continuation of the '968 patent and that the '968 patent supported the automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means limitation, in the subsequent Patent Interference No. 103,697, Katz claimed support for “means connected to said interface switching means for directly providing a caller telephone number from said telephone facility” in the '968 patent

137. Further, upon information and belief, during the Patent Interference No. 103,697, Katz did not inform the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences of Examiner Brown's prior repudiation of Katz's assertion that the '968 patent supported the automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means limitation.

138. Examiner Brown's prior repudiation of Katz's assertion would have also been material to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences' determination as to whether Katz was entitled to antedate the U.S. Patent No. 4,797,911 to Szlam ("the Szlam patent"), particularly in as much, as the Board ultimately concluded that count 1, which was alleged by Katz to have support in the '968 patent, was found lacking by the Board. Count 1 recited, in part, " means connected to said interface switching means for directly providing a caller telephone number from said telephone facility" and "computer means ...responsive to said caller telephone number ..."

139. Even though the Board concluded that support for the count 1 was lacking in the '968 patent, as part of the prosecution of the '156 Patent in 1997, Katz again alleged, but this time to Examiner Woo, that the '968 patent provided support for the limitation of "interface means...for receiving automatic number identification data..." Specifically, Katz alleged that the claim limitation was supported by essentially the same text Katz previously cited during prosecution of the '344 patent and in the interference proceeding.

140. Upon information and belief, Katz did not inform Examiner Woo of Examiner Brown's finding of the lack of written support in the '968 patent for the limitation "automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means." Nor did Katz inform Examiner Woo of the Board of Patent Interferences' finding of a lack of written support in the '968 patent for the limitation "computer means ... responsive to said caller telephone number..."

141. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally failed to inform the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and Examiner Woo of the prior repudiations of Katz's false assertions that certain claim limitations relating to processing ANI were supported in the '968 patent in violation of the duty of candor with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering the '156 patent unenforceable.

142. Likewise, upon information and belief, during prosecution of the '965 patent, Katz attempted to traverse a claim rejection of Katz's then pending claim 68 in light of the Szlam patent by falsely claiming that "Claim 68 as amended is fully supported by Applicant's earlier parent patent no. 4,792,968, filed on February 24, 1987, before ...Szlam....."

143. Upon information and belief, Katz failed to inform the examiner of the '965 patent of Examiner Brown's conclusion that the '968 patent specification did not support the "automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means."

144. Examiner Brown's conclusion that the '968 patent specification did not support the "automatic number identification (ANI) decoder means," would have been material to the examiner of the '965 patent in deciding the patentability of the pending claims, particularly with respect to antedating prior art.

145. Upon information and belief, Katz intentionally failed to inform the examiner of the '965 patent of Examiner's Brown's prior conclusion in violation of the duty of candor and with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering the '965 patent asserted against Charter Communications unenforceable.

146. Likewise, during prosecution of the '551 patent, Examiner Brown rejected certain claims submitted by Katz pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 112 for lack of written support. Specifically, Examiner Brown stated that "[t]he text actually is not found to describe how the interaction between the caller and the operator would proceed after the caller has been transferred thereto for “person-to-person” interaction, much less that such interaction necessarily would result in data entries being transferred to the memory.”

147. Katz continued prosecution of the same subject matter rejected by Examiner Brown in a subsequently filed application, which matured in the ‘065 patent, and again, in another subsequently file application, which matured into the ‘360 patent. Both of these applications were before a different patent examiner, Examiner Weaver.

148. Upon information and belief, Katz failed to inform Examiner Weaver that Examiner Brown found a lack of written support for the claimed subject matter in the prior ‘551 patent based on the same specification. Upon information and belief, Katz’s failure to disclose to Examiner Weaver the finding of Examiner Brown regarding a lack of written support was in violation of Katz’s duty of candor with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering the ‘551, ‘360 and ‘065 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit unenforceable.

B. Katz failed to disclose adverse findings from appeal rulings.

149. Upon information and belief, Katz failed to inform the patent examiners of certain of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit of the existence and outcome of certain Appeal Rulings of related patents that were adverse or contrary to positions Katz took during the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit.

150. For example, in Appeal No. 94-0834 (Application No. 07/640,337), the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences found that the Barger patent, which is prior art to the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, disclosed a multiple format system for interacting with callers based on the callers dialing distinct telephone numbers.

151. The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences' finding with respect to the scope of disclosure of the Barger patent would have been material to the patent examiners of at least the '846, '734, '762, '893, '120, '065 and '965 patents with respect to any claims reciting a multiple format limitation.

152. Nonetheless, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally failed to disclose the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences' finding with respect to the scope of disclosure of the Barger patent, with the intent to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering at least the '846, '734, '762, '893, '120, '065 and '965 patents asserted against Charter unenforceable.

153. The inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to the '846, '734, '762, '893, '120, '065 and '965 patents taints other related patents, which claim priority to these patents and which claim related subject matter to which the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences's finding with respect to the scope of disclosure of the Barger patent would have been material, thereby, rendering these related patents, including at least the '223 and '360 patents unenforceable.

V. Katz Intentionally Made False Claims of Priority so as to Avoid the Prior Art.

154. Upon information and belief, during the prosecution of several patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, Katz made false claims of priority to earlier applications with the intent to avoid prior art, as set forth below.

155. For example, during prosecution of the '984 patent, which is the grandparent of the '734 patent, Katz made the false claim that "the international application [87/00375] is not properly a reference against the present case.” This assertion is false, since international application [87/00375], i.e., the WO ‘375 application, was published more than one year prior to the filing of the ‘734 patent, and therefore, is prior art to any new matter introduced and claimed in the ‘734 patent, which was based on a continuation-in-part application. Therefore, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally misrepresented the priority dates for claims during the prosecution of the ‘984 patent, in order to antedate the WO ‘375 application.

156. Likewise, during prosecution of the ‘734 patent, Katz identified U.S. Patent No. 4,792,461 to (“the Brown patent”) to the USPTO, but falsely stated that the pending application’s claims predated the Brown patent because they claimed priority to the ‘150 patent. Amendment, January 31, 1996 at page 11-12. In fact, the relevant pending application’s claims did not predate Brown because in the ‘150 patent there is no suggestion of multiple call modes, as claimed in the ‘734 patent. Therefore, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally misrepresented the priority dates for claims during the prosecution of the ‘734 patent, in order to antedate the Brown patent.

157. Similarly, upon information and belief, during prosecution of the ‘734 patent, Katz used the same approach to mislead the patent examiner in order to antedate a prior art reference by Hester. Katz stated “the reference by Hester bears a date of 1985, apparently ‘September.’ In that regard, it is noteworthy that the present application is related to a parent case filed July 10, 1985.” The parent application Katz referenced, however, does not disclose toll free calls nor 900 “pay-per-call” modes, and, therefore, none the claims in the ‘734 patent reciting such limitations are entitled to claim priority to that parent application’s filing date. Therefore, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally misrepresented the priority dates for claims during the prosecution of the ‘734 patent, in order to antedate the Hester reference

158. Likewise, upon information and belief, during prosecution of the '734 patent, Katz mischaracterized his pending application with respect to the prior art U.S. Patent 4,797,913 to Kaplan ("the Kaplan patent"), which was filed on August 4, 1987. Specifically, Katz stated "the present application is entitled to a priority date earlier than that of the subject reference." Upon information and belief, Katz's statement was false at the time it was made since there were claims in Katz's application (such as then pending claim 17) which contained and claimed new subject matter, and were, therefore, not entitled to an earlier priority date. Therefore, upon information and belief, Katz intentionally misrepresented the priority dates for claims during the prosecution of the '734 patent, in order to antedate the Kaplan patent.

159. Upon information and belief, in violation of the duty of good faith and candor, Katz made the above-identified false claims to priority in order to avoid the prior art and to deceive the USPTO into issuing patent claims of a scope beyond which Katz was entitled, thereby committing inequitable conduct and rendering the '984 and '734 patents unenforceable.

160. In addition, the inequitable conduct committed by Katz with respect to the '984 and '734 patents taints other related patents, namely the '120 and '223 patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, which claim priority to these patents and which claim related subject matter to which the prior art patents are material, rendering these related patents unenforceable.

VI. Conclusion

161. As set forth above, Katz engaged in a pattern and practice of inequitable conduct throughout the prosecution of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit and/or other related patents that infected, either directly or indirectly, all of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit, thereby rendering them unenforceable for inequitable conduct.

162. Charter Communications is, therefore, entitled to a judicial declaration that each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit is unenforceable.

Demand For A Jury Trial

Charter Communications demands a jury trial, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 38(b), as to all issues that may be tried by a jury.

Prayer For Relief

WHEREFORE, Charter Communications prays for relief as follows:

- (i) That RAKTL recover nothing and that its Complaint be dismissed with prejudice;
- (ii) That the Court deny any injunctive relief in favor of RAKTL and against Charter Communications;
- (iii) That the Court declare that Charter Communications has not and does not directly infringe, induce infringement or contribute to the infringement of any claim of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit;
- (iv) That the Court declare and order that each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit is invalid;
- (v) That the Court declare and order that that each of the patents asserted against Charter Communications in this suit is unenforceable;
- (vi) That the Court find this case to be an exceptional case pursuant to Section 285 of the Patent Act and award Charter Communications its reasonable attorneys' fees in this action;
- (vii) That all costs be taxed against RAKTL; and (viii) That Charter Communications be granted such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
